

ARMY RELEASES 2,000,000 BY DEC. 31

NAVAL FORCE
OUTWITS JAPS
BEHIND LINESNOT ONE KILLED IN SECRET UNIT OF
3,000 MEN

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—A daring U. S. navy force guarded by Chinese guerrillas operated behind Japanese lines in China during the war, regularly supplying weather and other intelligence to the fleet and the army.

The navy tonight drew back the curtains of secrecy on the combined Chinese-American group known officially as SAGO—Sino-American Cooperative Organization. Its code name was "Friendship."

The story of SAGO began a few weeks after the Japanese attack on Pearl Harbor. The fleet had to have information on weather from Japanese-held Asia and western Pacific areas.

Generalissimo Chiang Kai-shek threw the resources of his bureau of investigation and statistics into the project. Fleet Admiral Ernest J. King and Gen. George C. Marshall, army chief of staff, supplied a naval group under Rear Admiral M. E. Miles of Kenwood, Md.

Carrier Strikes Aided

The American force at its peak numbered 3,000, but not a single one was killed. One, a coast watcher, was captured and 10 were wounded. The Chinese in the project at one time totaled 100,000 of whom approximately 10,000 were killed and an equal number wounded.

Here are some of the accomplishments of SAGO:

Weather observers and other agents equipped with radio supplied information promptly to SAGO headquarters where it was analyzed, condensed and relayed to Pacific fleet headquarters, to air, surface and submarine units at sea, to the Chinese and to army forces in China.

These reports, the navy said, helped in planning "hazardous carrier strikes" despite treacherous weather in the area of Formosa and the Japanese homeland.

Mat. Gen. Claire Chennault's 14th Air Force was given data on shipping, troop movements, supply dumps, bridges and other strategic targets. Liberator bombers, using this intelligence, sowed mines in enemy-controlled waters and harbors as early as October, 1943.

Thousands of tons of shipping went down as a result of mines, paralyzing supply routes and forcing the closing of ports. When Japanese ships tried to avoid the mines by swinging out to sea, lurking U. S. submarines promptly sent them to the bottom.

Guerrilla Score High

In October, 1944, during Gen. Douglas MacArthur's invasion of Leyte, SAGO supplied the first word that a Japanese carrier task force was approaching for the crucial battle of Leyte Gulf.

The effectiveness of the SAGO guerrillas is shown by the score card: from June 1, 1945, to July 1, 1945, they killed 23,540 Japanese, wounded 9,166 and captured 291. They destroyed 209 bridges, 84 locomotives, 141 ships and river craft and 97 depots and warehouses.

They worked with other forces and loyal Chinese in rescuing 76 Chinese and American fliers brought down in Japanese territory. Don Bell, U. S. war correspondent, was lucked from the Japanese by SAGO men.

Writing of his rescue, Bell said: "Imagine our gasps of amazed delight when told that there was a U. S. naval station just 80 li (about 27 miles) away. Here we had been shot down less than a mile from a Japanese garrison... and here was a man telling us that we were within a few hours of safety."

Survivors Clear Up
Mystery Of Sunken
U.S. Destroyer Pope

Oakland, Calif., Sept. 13. (AP)—The mystery that long shrouded the fate of the U. S. destroyer Pope was cleared today as Commodore Belford C. Blynn, its commander, returned from a Japanese prisoner of war camp.

The Pope and two British cruisers, the Exeter and the Encounter, were sunk on Sunday, March 1, 1942, in the Java Sea, after they were pounced on by a Japanese force after having blocked an enemy convoy.

The last word from the three was a radio message from the Pope saying three Japanese cruisers were steering toward her. Subsequently the navy announced that only two men survived.

Commodore Blynn declared today that, as a matter of fact, only one man on the Pope lost his life in the encounter.

An 8-inch shell had hit the cruiser Exeter in the boiler room. With speed cut, she dropped out of line. The Pope and the Encounter fell back with her as an escort. Then the Japanese force pounced.

"The battle was tremendous," said Commodore Blynn, "and we took a beating of like proportions. We were actually attacked by four cruisers and five destroyers in a mass of smoke so thick you could not see. The Exeter and the Encounter went down first. We kept firing until all ammunition was gone, the guns were hot and the ship had been so shaken by her own guns it was like the terrier and rat story."

Several wounded were removed safely before the Pope went down. The crew was in the water 2-1/2 days, with 154 men clustered around a 30-man lifeboat. The Japanese picked up the crew and took the men to Makassar prison in the Celebes, eventually transferring them to the notorious Ofuna camp.

JOBLESS WAGE
BILL REVAMPEDProvision To Bring All
States Up To $25 A Week Omitted

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The Senate Finance Committee finished work today on a sharply-revised unemployment compensation bill which leaves it up to the states whether they'll accept federal aid in extending the duration of jobless payments.

The bill, notably lacking a provision asked by President Truman for federal payments to bring all state rates up to a maximum of $25 a week, will be ready for the Senate Tuesday.

In making state participation voluntary, the committee adopted, on motion of Senator Millikin (R-Colo.), language requiring "the written request of the governor of any state." It knocked out section agreeing that if any state failed to agree to participate, the government itself would make the duration-extending payments.

Generally speaking, if the governor approves, full time workers would be assured payments up to as much as 26 weeks. But there are exceptions. Committee attaches said that an individual entitled to the maximum duration in his state would be entitled to 26 weeks with government aid in every state except Arizona and Mississippi.

The bill still carries provision for travel cost at government expense to bring stranded war workers home or to a new job, limiting the amount in each case to $200. However, the committee today limited this aid to workers who left their homes after Dec. 7, 1941 to engage in war work. Travel allowances may not be paid workers whose employers had agreed to stand this cost.

The measure provides jobless pay benefits to some 2,900,000 federal civil employees and to some 400,000 Maritime workers. The original Kilgore bill provided the same for food processors, but this is not now in the bill, having been dropped earlier this week.

Estonian Refugees
Sail For America
In 37-Foot Yacht

London, Sept. 13 (AP)—Sixteen Estonian refugees, including five women and four children, set out today from the west coast of Scotland in a 37-foot sailing yacht on a modern-day "Mayflower" voyage to America.

It is the fourth time the tiny craft—which has no auxiliary motor—started out on the long trip. Three times it turned back before Atlantic storms.

THE LAST IS FIRST—Col. Walter L. J. Baylor, commander of Wake Island at the start of the war and last Marine to leave in December, 1941, is the first American to set foot on the island—to be welcomed by a saluting Jap officer—after the Japs formally surrendered the island. (NEA Photo.)

Restoring Berlin Will Take 50 Years, Knudsen
Estimates After Tour

BY DAVID J. WILKIE
Associated Press Automotive Editor

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—Approximately 70 per cent of General Motors' production facilities in Europe and England were destroyed during the war and there is no way of telling now when they can be restored, according to former Lt. General William S. Knudsen.

Knudsen, who resigned the General Motors presidency to direct this nation's war production effort and rejoined the corporation a few weeks ago, has just returned from an inspection tour of European and English cities.

He told a press conference today that "it will take 50 years to repair all the damage done to Berlin," and "God only knows when there may be a market for automobiles again in Germany."

CASUALTIES NOT

Tells Of Holding Japs
Off Little Island

BY AL DOPKING

Tokyo, Sept. 13 (AP)—Lt. Col. James P. Devereux, commander of the heroic defense of Wake Island before it fell to an overwhelming force of Japanese, reported that American casualties in the fight were not great.

Members of an air evacuation group who visited him in a prison camp on Hokkaido Island Tuesday said Devereux told them: "Of several groups of marines, we lost five officers and 41 men. Of five navy officers and 58 men, we lost three men, and as well as I recall, of approximately 1,200 civilian workers, we lost about 37."

The rescue party said Devereux denied that a radio message—"Send us more Japs"—was sent from the island before it was overrun by the enemy. There were reports at that time that such a message had been received at Pearl Harbor from the Wake Garrison.

"We did not send out such a message," he was quoted. "We had all and more Japs than we could handle right then. There were just too many of them for us to hold off any longer."

One of the rescue party, Sgt. Al Martin of Roanoke, Va., and Topoka, Kans., said Devereux told them, however, that he had to give the "cease fire" order three times before his men would quit. Devereux was reported thin and gray but otherwise apparently healthy. He told the evacuation party that he had been treated well in comparison with treatment reported given prisoners in other camps.

Evacuation of the marine hero and other prisoners is expected to be completed by tomorrow.

Knudsen visited the Scandinavian countries, Belgium, Germany and France on a 31-day tour. He described the destruction in Berlin as "horrible." An atomic bomb, he said, "could not have done a more complete job of it, although it might have done it more quickly."

"There's a tremendous market for American goods over there in Europe," he said, "if means can be found to finance it. Everybody wants something."

The one-time Danish immigrant who became one of the world's outstanding production experts, said that reconstruction of the overseas plants would depend largely upon the occupation authorities and when materials could be found.

"By December 1," he said, "we should be sending some parts from here to some of the European plants. We may get 10 per cent of our pre-war production of cars at that time."

Knudsen said the General Motors plant at Antwerp must be rebuilt. He described it as 99 per cent destroyed. Those at Copenhagen and Stockholm, he said, were "all right." They a pre-war production capacity of about 20,000 cars each.

"The only thing that will bring Europe back," he said, "is for everybody to go back to work—and work like hell."

"That can be applied to us here at home, too," he added, smiling.

STRIKERS MIXED

Detroit Group To Get Back On Job

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—Picket line skirmishes marked the Ford Motor company strike in Windsor, Ont., today while here in Detroit a union group studied an order from superiors to get back on the job.

Representatives of strikers at the Kelsey-Hayes Wheel company consulted over the directions to resume work immediately which were issued last night by the international executive board of the United Automobile Workers (CIO).

The union's top leadership, which turned down a request of Local 174 to authorize the three-week lockout, was reported to have set at 3 p. m. Friday deadline for the strikers to return.

If the strikers failed to return by that time, it was said, officers of Local 174 would be brought to "trial" before the board. The strike, affecting 4,500 Kelsey-Hayes employees, began Aug. 23 over a demand for reinstatement of three dismissed union men.

The Windsor Ford strike, for which Mayor Arthur J. Rheume of the Canadian city has expressed sympathy, went into its second day with 10,000 persons idle.

NIPPON STEPS

WAR MAKERSJAPS HOPE TO HEAD OFF EPIDEMIC OF HARA KIRI

Tokyo, Friday, Sept. 14 (AP)—The Japanese government today asked and was given the job of arresting its own suspected war criminals but was expected to get results within two days.

Otherwise, U. S. Eighth Army headquarters intimated, the Americans again will step in and corral the war-makers, Black Dragon jingo and prison camp tyrants who face court martial as war criminals.

The Japanese asked permission to act after Hideko Tojo, the fallen war-time dictator, shot and seriously wounded himself Tuesday when American troops came to arrest him at his home in a Tokyo suburb.

Quick Action Demanded

The request of the government obviously was made to save "face," not only for those on the list ranging from highest ranking officials to prison camp guards but for the government itself.

There was also the possibility that the Japanese thought they might be able to head off a hara kiri epidemic among the accused.

The Japanese undertook to hand over every Japanese on General MacArthur's list of "wanted" men who is not now in custody.

That would include Chief Cabinet Secretary Taketora Ogata, accused of being a member of the Black Dragon society of super-patriots.

The Japanese cabinet in special session was wrestling with the problem of what to do with ele-

Yokohama, Friday, Sept. 14. (AP)—Gen. Hideki Tojo, Japan's war-starting premier, slept well last night and his condition was "quite satisfactory" at 9:30 a. m. (8:30 n. m., Thursday, Eastern War time).

ments within the government that may be unsavory to MacArthur. (A high government authority in Washington declared the United States hoped for quick, vigorous action against Japanese war criminals similar to measures taken against Germany's guilty.)

Some Japanese sources, including the superintendent of the Tokyo police, denied that Ogata belonged to the Black Dragon society of terrorists, as MacArthur's headquarters charged in ordering his arrest.

Walkout Of Radio
Engineers Ended

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The strike of engineers and technicians in the National and American Broadcasting companies ended tonight and the men returned to work, U. S. Labor Conciliator J. R. Mandelbaum announced.

The work stoppage began at 6:00 p. m. (EWT) yesterday after officials of the National Association of Broadcast Engineers and Technicians, an independent union, declared negotiations for a new contract had broken down.

Mandelbaum said representatives of NBC, ABC and the union resumed contract negotiations immediately.

Street Car Crash
Injures Over 40

Detroit, Sept. 13. (AP)—More than 40 persons were injured, none seriously, in a collision today of two street cars. Fifteen of the injured were hospitalized.

One motorist said the brakes on his car failed when he pulled up behind a car waiting for a red traffic light.

Wainwright Cheered
By Millions, Admits
It's "Hard To Take"

BY JAMES H. PORTERFIELD

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—The acclaim of New York's millions was heaped upon Gen. Jonathan M. Wainwright today with a welcome so overpowering the hero of Corregidor found it "hard to take."

Along a 32-mile route from barge-dotted East river, through a wild, paper-throwing financial district to swank Fifth Avenue, a police-estimated crowd of 4,000,000 to 6,000,000 persons roared a greeting to the 62-year-old four-star general.

At its conclusion, the man who made the last stand on Corregidor during the darkest days of the war and then spent 39 months in Japanese prison camps, made no attempt to conceal how deeply he was touched.

"It was," he said, "hard to take." The magnitude of the ovation struck the tall, still-gaunt general with full force when he rode—at the head of a 20-car motorcade—

AUTO RATIONING
MAY BE LIFTEDNew Car Production Is Expected To Pick Up Rapidly

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—Contrary to original plans new automobiles due on the market soon may not be rationed.

Along with the development of this prospect today, government officials studied a recommendation of the War Production Board's leather bureau that shoe rationing be ended October 1.

Proposals to abandon plans for rationing the first few thousands new cars have been submitted by the OPA to WPB. The latter agency is giving the idea favorable consideration.

"Plans for rationing were laid," one official explained, "before the war ended, when it looked as though only 250,000 cars could be built this year."

Current prospects are for at least twice that many in 1945. And production is expected to hit the prewar rate of 4,000,000 cars a year early in 1946.

If the OPA recommendations are followed, officials expect to recommend some form of voluntary dealer rationing to the most essential drivers during the early weeks of sales.

There were these other moves today loosening civilian controls: The Office of Defense Transportation, effective Oct. 1, is lifting all restrictions on the activities of travel agencies, to whom sale of railroad accommodations was barred July 21.

In view of accumulating surpluses from a near-record crop that already has pulled down prices, OPA agreed with department of agriculture officials to remove ceiling prices from potatoes in a few days.

The Solid Fuels Administration revoked the rule under which household consumers of coal had to file declarations of their requirements with dealers.

Traces Are Found
Of Swimmers' Itch
In Lake Michigan

Lansing, Sept. 13 (AP)—The State Stream Control Commission today reported "swimmers' itch," an infestation of some northern Michigan inland lakes, has been discovered for the first time in Great Lakes waters.

The rash, carried from water fowl to humans through a snail host, has been reported in channels near Les Cheneaux Islands east of St. Ignace, Milton P. Adams, commission secretary, said.

Adams said he had no doubt the new infestation would be quickly controlled. Asserting the commission's field crews were having continued success in eliminating the outbreaks, he reported the crews had their "biggest season" this year, treating beaches with 32,000 pounds of a copper chemical which kills the snails.

He said he would recommend the addition of a third field crew next summer to operate solely in the Upper Peninsula.

SUSPECTS HELD

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 13 (AP)—Two Windsor men were arrested today at Charlottetown by Royal Canadian mounted police in connection with the $310,000 robbery of a Bath, Ont., bank last July. The suspects will be returned to Bath for questioning.

up the mile-long Hero's Canyon amid one of the greatest paper showers the financial district ever has seen.

Gay streamers, ticker tape and torn newspapers cascaded down in such volume that the general's car at times virtually was hidden from view. A continuous roar rose from the jam-packed sidewalks.

Smiling, but plainly surprised, General Wainwright waved to the right and left and turned occasionally to Mayor F. H. LaGuardia, who rode at his side, as if to seek reassurance that everything was real.

Close behind him in another car was his wife, "Kitty," who until this week had not seen him for four years.

A 17-gun salute, booming out from LaGuardia Field, upon the general's arrival from Washington at 11 a. m. (EWT) signaled the start of activities.

At city hall, with Broadway's cheers still ringing in his ears, General Wainwright stood on a gaily-decorated platform, back of which hung an 18-foot map of Corregidor, and talked of his soldiers and imprisonment.

"A kind Providence," he said, "has restored me and some of the brave men I commanded to the peace of our great nation. Thousands of American soldiers died in horrible prison camps, through torture and through neglect."

"I cannot forget this deliberate crime against civilization and the laws of war, any more than I can forget the sufferings of my comrades. Their sacrifices will have been in vain if we ever again allow this nation to grow indifferent to danger."

TOKYO CRIMINAL
TRIALS BOOKEDMilitary Tribunal Will Be Set Up To Punish Jap Big Shots

BY JOHN M. HIGHTOWER

Washington, Sept. 13. (AP)—Big shot Japanese war criminals probably will be tried by a four-power Allied military tribunal set up with headquarters at Tokyo early next year.

The revolutionary new principle of international law—that the top officials of a government may be tried for starting a war of aggression—will be applied to Japanese criminals just as it is being applied to their German counterparts under the leadership of the American chief prosecutor, Justice Robert H. Jackson.

It is not yet certain, but the probability is that an entirely new tribunal and prosecution staff will have to be set up at Tokyo.

While all the governments in the war against Japan are preparing their own war criminals list and while arrests are going forward under General Douglas MacArthur's leadership in Japan, some months probably will elapse before the big trials can begin. This does not mean that trials may not be held almost at once for Japanese guilty of specific misdeeds, such as murder or torture.

The four countries expected to compose the military tribunal and its prosecution staff are the United States, China, Britain and Russia, although Australia has been demanding a part in this proceeding.

Tokyo is expected to be the seat of the trials because like Nuernberg in the case of Germany it is the symbol of Japanese military aggressiveness.

Newsprint Controls
Will Be Abolished

Washington, Sept. 13. (AP)—All government controls on newsprint will be abolished December 31, it appeared likely today, and paper allocations to U. S. publishers will be increased for the fourth quarter.

Relaxation of newsprint usage restrictions one full degree in the sliding scale formula of deductions beginning October 1 and revocation of limitation order 240 at the end of the year were recommended by the newspaper industry advisory committee at a two-day session with WPB officials, the agency announced.

The industry committee also recommended that the newspaper industry plan voluntary cooperation in self-imposed buying restrictions, within the limitations of anti-trust laws, after government restrictions are removed.

OVER 740,000
SCHEDULED TO GO OVERSEASNEW CENTERS OPEN
FOR SPEEDING UP
DISCHARGES

Washington, Sept. 13. (AP)—The army is setting up 145 temporary separation centers to clear out a backlog of 258,000 men in this country who are eligible for discharge, senators were told today.

These men, Maj. Gen. S. G. Henry told the senate military committee, were returned from Europe for deployment to the Pacific. The sudden surrender of Japan, he explained, left them without an assignment.

The air forces are establishing 32 temporary discharge bases to release 135,000 men and the service forces are creating 113 centers to process 123,000 men.

All of the centers will be in operation by Sept. 24, with the AAF scheduled to finish up its backlog within 42.2 days and the service forces in 35 days. After Jan. 1, discharges will be handled by the 26 regular centers.

Peak In January

Between now and Christmas, Henry told the committee, the army expects to release approximately 1,300,000 men, with discharges hitting a peak of 672,000 in January. Since V-E day, May 8, the army has released approximately 700,000, making the expected year-end total 2,000,000.

Senator Johnson (D-Colo.) told General Henry that he has been receiving complaints that men returned from combat were sitting around camps in this country, "cutting grass with bayonets and holding hands" while awaiting discharge.

Henry replied that everybody who is eligible to go overseas is being sent out—540,000 to Gen. Douglas MacArthur and 200,000 to Gen. Dwight D. Eisenhower.

"The man cutting grass with the bayonet moves in to replace those men," Henry said. "The grass has to be cut. Even if he took General Marshall's place (as army chief of staff) he wouldn't think he was doing essential work as long as he thought he ought to be discharged."

BY HARRY FRAWLEY

Pearl Harbor, Sept. 13. (AP)—Vice Adm. Forrest Sherman, heading the return of fleet headquarters to Pearl Harbor, said tonight that the fleet's Pacific plans called for completion first of the navy's part in occupation of Japan; maintenance of a strong force ready to control any situation that develops in Nippon, and return home eventually of more than 3,000,000 soldiers, sailors and marines.

"By early winter, after the movement of troops to Japan is completed, we plan to saturate the west coast with returning service men," said Sherman, Admiral Nimitz' deputy chief of staff.

Because of a shipping shortage, Sherman said, 19 warships have been assigned to start the return home of troops. The carrier Saratoga arrived at San Francisco this afternoon with the first group, 3,710.

A conference will be held in San Francisco in a few days by navy and railroad officials to determine at what rate the roads can evacuate service men to their homes from the west coast.

Sherman, veteran planner of Pacific naval operations, said return of Nimitz' headquarters to Pearl Harbor was prompted partially by demobilization needs and would be completed soon after

RON MT. PLANS NEW SKI LIFT

George Wallner Proposes To Replace Tow At Sports Area

Iron Mountain—If a survey to be made this week by Edgar R. Nelson, county engineer-manager, reveals a satisfactory condition, George Wallner, proprietor of the Michigan Machine Company in the city will, early this fall, start construction of a new ski-tow on the mountain, at a point west of the former lift, which was operated by Fred Pabst, Jr., formerly of Milwaukee.

Wallner made this pledge after lengthy discussion at last night's annual meeting of the Iron Mountain-Kingsford Winter Sports Association, in the chamber of commerce office. The ski-tow project adds a program which, it is expected, will provide a well-rounded program of winter sports in the community during 1945-46.

Wallner proposes to invest some $4,000 in an electrically-operated ski-tow, equipped with every safety device. He has inquired into the cost of energy to be provided by the Wisconsin Michigan Power company. He plans to operate the tow himself until his investment is returned, and then to turn it over to a responsible association—perhaps the Winter Sports Association.

Discussion Of Lease
There was much discussion last night of the lease on the present ski-tow site now held by Pabst, who operated the tow at Pine Mountain as a private enterprise, or three seasons—1939-40-41-42. Pabst has since developed a ski lift at Manchester Center, Vermont, and has indicated no intention of returning here, despite repeated letters addressed to him by Don Smith, winter sports secretary.

Meanwhile, the former Milwaukee man has failed to respond to repeated inquiries as to the lease, of indefinite duration, which he now holds on the ski-tow site, comprising four acres at Pine Mountain. In a letter to Smith early last summer Pabst suggested that an offer be made him to relinquish the lease. Smith replied that although no considerable amount could be paid, the association was prepared to make a nominal offer, as a goodwill gesture. Pabst failed to reply, and has never since communicated with Smith.

Perronville

Moved To Michigan—Mr. and Mrs. Emil Peltonen who disposed of their farm and personal property by auction have gone to make their home with their only son who is employed in Santa Monica, Calif.

Mr. and Mrs. Peltonen who were born in Finland, seventy-one and seventy years ago, respectively, came to this country fifty years ago. They resided on their forty-acre farm two miles south of Whitney for thirty-three years.

Mr. and Mrs. Lawrence Seymour who purchased the farm have moved into the home last Wednesday.

Receives M. A. Degree
Miss Lorraine Devine returned to Menominee to resume teaching in the English department of the high school after visiting for a week at her home in Perronville. She attended the eight weeks summer session at Boulder, Colorado University and received a Master of Arts degree in August.

School Opened
The Perronville school opened Sept. 4th an enrollment of eighty-one pupils. Miss Kathryn McCarthy of Escanaba, a new member on the teaching staff is teaching the kindergarten, first and second grades; Mrs. Madeline Pierce teaches third, fourth and fifth, and Mrs. Mabel Kilb, sixth, seventh and eighth grades.

Receives Discharge
Lieut. Joseph Bartoszek, son of Mr. and Mrs. Frank Bartoszek of Perronville has received an honorable discharge from the Air Corps. Lieut. Bartoszek served in the European theater of war as bombardier completing thirty-three missions over Germany and participated in the D-Day landing in France. Previous to his discharge he was stationed in California.

Personals
Russell J. Kleis, assistant to director of short courses of Michigan State College, East Lansing, visited at the Elmer Kilb home Tuesday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Cowan have returned to Chicago after visiting with Mrs. Hedwig Wrubel and relatives and friends in the vicinity. Mrs. Cowan is the former Rose Wrubel.

Miss Mary Mueller, Menominee county home demonstration agent, and Mary Margaret Kilb, local 4-H leader visited several 4-H club member's gardens Thursday. They found many good gardens with very few damaged by the recent frost.

Mr. and Mrs. Matt Luchay are visiting in Chicago this week. Miss Estella Bioniaz of Chicago is home for a month's vacation.

Mrs. Essie Quinn of Kenosha visited at the Elmer Kilb home last Wednesday.

Miss Mary Margaret Kilb has enrolled in the college at Ripon, Wis. She will leave Saturday to be there for orientation the following week.

Miss Mae E. Devine motored back to Detroit where she resumed teaching. She spent the summer months at her home in Perronville.

Tourist Council To Hold Meeting In Duluth, Minn.

Marquette — First meeting of the executive committee of the Northern Great Lakes Area Council will be held September 20 at the New Duluth Hotel, Duluth, it was announced here today by George E. Bishop, chairman of the Michigan Tourist Council and chairman of the Organization Committee of the Council.

Bishop said that response to the call for the meeting indicated that nearly all of the 20 members of the Committee would be present to adopt constitution and by-laws, to elect officers and discuss possible objectives, immediate and ultimate, that may constitute a program of action for the council. They will also discuss ways and means of providing operating finances.

Decision to organize such a council was made at a Mackinac Island meeting, in July, of representatives from Michigan, Wisconsin, Minnesota and the Province of Ontario. An executive committee, composed of a delegation of five from each state and the province was appointed to perfect the organization. Governor Harry F. Kelly heads the Michigan delegation, Hon. G. A. Drew, K. C., Premier of Ontario heads the Canadian group, Gov. Edward J. Thye, chairman of the Minnesota membership on the council, and Frank N. Grass, Madison, represents the executive offices of Wisconsin. The council was organized for cooperative action on those resort and travel problems which are common to the states and the Canadian province.

Michigan's membership on the council is as follows: Gov. Kelly, George E. Bishop, chairman Michigan Tourist Council, Marquette, William Palmer, Grand Rapids, P. L. Radcliffe, Detroit, and Webb McCall, Mt. Pleasant, all members of the Michigan Tourist Council.

Rent Overcharges Claimed In Hotels

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—The OPA accused five Detroit hotels of rent overcharges in a suit filed today in Federal court and sought to recover $262,272.55 from them.

The hotels, accused also of violating OPA rent regulations by failing to register proper base rent ceilings, are the Book-Cadillac, Detroit-Leland, Fort Shelby, Teller and Briggs.

The OPA asked $105,971.80 from the Book-Cadillac, the largest treble damages suit ever brought by the OPA for rent control violations. C. Walter Healy, OPA rent enforcement attorney, said: "The amounts sought from the others were Fort Shelby, $83,478.21; Tuller, $37,146.15; Detroit-Leland, $31,660.68; and Briggs, $3,165.71."

BEETLE BATTLED

Grand Rapids, Sept. 13 (AP)—Howard N. Chapel, official of the state department of agriculture, announced Thursday that the state will send crews, trucks and spraying equipment into Grand Rapids within the next two weeks to begin the job of treating areas found here to be infested with the Colorado potato beetle.

RAILROAD SUE

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—A $50,000 damage suit was filed in Federal court today by Edward Haver of Battle Creek against the Grand Trunk-Western Railroad. Haver charged he was injured permanently March 22 when he was scalded by live steam from a locomotive which he was repairing.

MORE TIME FOR TAXES

Detroit, Sept. 13 (AP)—An extra day of grace was granted today to income tax payers. Payments due Saturday may be made Monday and be within the legal time limit, Collector Giles Kavanagh said, because the collector's office will be closed Saturday.

CUB BASEMAN DISCHARGED

New York, Sept. 13 (AP)—Cy Block, 26-year-old second baseman-third baseman owned by the National League Chicago Cubs, was released today by the Coast Guard, first ball player to win a discharge from the Coast Guard under the service point system.

international reputation "as a liar." The even tenor of occupation was maintained, meanwhile, with the Japanese government announcing the dissolution of two hotbeds of militarism and aggression.

In accordance with MacArthur's demands, Imperial headquarters was disbanded, and 15,220 students of the Naval college—the Annapolis of Japan—were dismissed. MacArthur's headquarters announced that Gen. Walter Krueger would arrive at the western Kyushu naval base of Sasebo Sept. 20 to arrange for the landings of his U. S. Sixth Army of Occupation two days later.

The following day, Lt. Gen. Robert L. Eichelberger's U. S. Eighth Army of Occupation will begin moving into northern Japan's port of Aomori.

The man who at the height of war ranked with Hitler and Mussolini as a symbol of America's enemies was showing "satisfactory" progress on recovery from a gunshot wound near the heart. The Japanese admiral who gave the actual signal that launched the attack on Pearl Harbor was even less talkative than Tojo about the war.

From his guarded room in the Grand Hotel, Adm. Shigetaro Shimada, navy minister at the time of Pearl Harbor, sent out word to correspondents he would do no talking until he is brought to trial.

Full Employment Bill Approved By Senate Committee

Washington, Sept. 13 (AP)—The controversial "full employment" bill was reported favorably by a senate subcommittee today after a futile effort to modify its spending commitments. Senator Taft (R-Ohio) announced the attempts to amend the bill will be resumed when the full committee meets Tuesday.

The subcommittee was divided five to five on amendments designed principally to deemphasize the idea of relying heavily on federal spending to counteract unemployment.

Chairman Wagner (D-NY) declared the basic principle of the measure remained "unimpaired." He is one of the four Democrats and four Republican sponsors of the legislation.

The bill declares near its outset: "All Americans able to work and desiring to work have the right and opportunity for useful, remunerative, regular and full-time employment."

American Troops In China May Be Home For Holidays

Chungking, Sept. 13 (AP)—A "goodly proportion" of American troops in China may be home for the Christmas holidays, Lt. Gen. Albert C. Wedemeyer said today. The U. S. commander in chief for the China theater told a press conference the home-goings would depend upon the speed with which the Americans complete their missions, which he said in general amounts to facilitating Chinese reoccupation and the securing of areas formerly held by the enemy.

Redeployment will be conducted on a priority basis with enlisted personnel 35 years old, or 35 to 38 with at least two years active service, getting first call.

Airforce personnel already is being deployed homeward.

Balkan Situation Aired In London

London, Sept. 13 (AP)—U. S. Secretary of State James F. Byrnes summoned his southeastern European experts tonight for an anticipated airing of the turbulent Balkan political situation by the big five council of foreign ministers. The disclosure that these key American representatives had been called to London was made by U. S. embassy sources after Byrnes conferred with King Peter of Yugoslavia and the Greek Regent Archbishop Damaskinos.

The council resumes its scheduled discussions tomorrow on the drafting of a peace settlement for Italy.

Police At Munising Solve Two Thefts

Munising—Two thefts in the past week were solved this week by city police when three juvenile boys, all 16, confessed after being questioned by police.

On Sept. 10, two of the boys broke into a car belonging to Richard Morgan, a tourist from Albion, and stole a ladies purse containing money and valuables.

Then on the same night at about 8 o'clock another boy teamed with the other two to pull what they thought would be the "perfect crime." An elderly lady from Eben who had been selling produce in town had her truck parked down town when two of the boys asked her if they could look at some of the vegetables in back of the truck. When the woman went to show the boys, the other lad took a purse from the front seat of the truck containing $53 and headed for the swamp where the three boys split the two thefts three ways.

After being picked up by the police they were turned over to the probate court and will be tried today and tomorrow. For two of the boys it is their first offense but the leader of the gang has served a stretch in the reformatory and has been picked up numerous times by police for stealing cars.

MUNISING BRIEFS

Mrs. Lawrence Robare and Virginia Alexander left Monday for Detroit to spend several days visiting friends.

Misses Joan Putvin, Carol Doucette and Patricia Rousseau left recently for Adrian, Mich., where they enrolled at St. Joseph's Academy.

Cpl. Lawrence Runsat has arrived home to spend a 30-day furlough with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Runsat, after two years service in Italy and France. Mr. and Mrs. Edward Maki of Trenary have purchased the Moore house on East Superior street.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kroner, 3rd, Hickory street, are the parents of a son, born Sept. 11, in St. Luke's hospital, Marquette. Mrs. Kroner is the former Isabelle Cannon.

PATROL BOYS PICKED

The following boys were sworn in by Police Chief Frank Chase to serve as patrolmen for the school year at Sacred Heart school: Captain, George Stephens; patrolmen: Vincent Ouellette, Roy Bell, Arthur Denny, Walter Gates, Donald Ross, Robert Runsat, Henry Schierschmidt, Lloyd Steinhoff, Robert Steinhoff, Donald St. Peter and Richard St. Martin.

Existence of the A-bomb will result in a frantic search to develop counter measures and defensive weapons to prevent the bomb getting to its target. He predicted that the U. S. government would be a leader in this field, too. He said another result should be the organization of a system of national defense to stop any offensive before it could get started.

No Task Too Tough For "Fighting 1st"

By NEA Service

"No mission too difficult; no sacrifice too great." This is the motto of the Fighting First, oldest and probably the best known of all American Infantry Divisions.

and the dough boys of the First more than lived up to it in three years of fighting against the Germans.

The Fighting First got off to an early start in this war at Oran on D-Day in the North African invasion, Nov. 8, 1942.

Then came Sicily, and the First was there on D-Day. In 37 days, the division took 18 cities, inching up cliffs and along tortuous mountain trails, and distinguishing itself by smashing the crack Hermann Goering Division.

The Fighting First spearheaded the D-Day landing at Normandy, hitting the French coast at Omaha Beach, strongest German point.

In the breakthrough out of Normandy at St. Lo, the First swung to the west, took Marigny and then trapped 30,000 Germans near Coutances. In August it overran Solons, where in the last war the First suffered 9000 casualties in four days, and continued to Aachen, fighting through the city street by street. The First fought in the Battle of the Bulge; and swept into Germany across the Remagen Bridge.

VE-Day found the First dough boys still at their favorite task—killing the "supermen."

OFFICERS PLAN GAME PATROLS

Conservation Force Has District Meeting
Here Yesterday

Conservation officers and fire wardens of the Delta-Marquette-Alger county district of the Michigan Department of Conservation yesterday attended a district meeting at the headquarters in Escanaba, according to John Augulim, district supervisor.

Principal subject discussed by the officers was a coordinated plan for patrols in the enforcement of the game laws in the district, a discussion of the game laws, and instruction for new members of the fire fighting organization.

Attending the meeting were the following officers: L. C. Brown, Allen Tweedy of Rapid River, Ray Roberts of Nahma, R. W. Sauer of Gwinn, Arne A. Posio of Negaunee, William H. Hanna of Republic, Donald Claus of Big Bay, Earl Kaiser of Chatham and Helmer Carlson of Munising.

Fire Wardens Ernest Rushford and Keith Johnson of Rapid River, Clarence Lang and Ernest Kaskimaki of Gwinn, Reino Kangas and Donald Kangas of Big Bay, David Johnson of Gwinn, Arthur Hill of Marquette, Elmer Voegtline of Gwinn and Thomas Sleeman of Ishpeming.

Others in attendance were Ernest Libby, Marquette, assistant district supervisor, and Paul Chalcin, assistant district supervisor.

Two Auto Wheels, Tires Stolen Here

The theft of wheels and tires from two cars in Escanaba Wednesday night brought the total of such thefts to six within the past few weeks. The present shortage of tires is believed responsible for the thefts.

Escanaba police reported that a spare tire and wheel was taken from a car owned by Art Carlson of 610 South 16th street while it was parked during a baseball game on North 23rd street. Two men were observed removing the wheel and tire.

F. W. McLean, Ypsilanti, employed by the Michigan State Motor Control, reported to police that a wheel and tire were stolen from his car while it was parked near the Delta hotel. The car is state-owned.

Larvae Of Sawfly Infesting Pines In This Region

Infestations of worms on Scotch, jack and Norway pine trees in this area have been reported of late to the conservation department headquarters in Escanaba.

Howard Eldred, game specialist of the conservation department, reports that the worms, which are really sawflies in the larva stage, eat the needles off the tree. After two years of defoliation, the tree is likely to die.

The sawfly usually hatches two broods of larvae a year. The best method of control is by spraying early in the year with a mixture of the following portions: three pounds of lead arsenic, 100 gallons of water and one-quarter of summer oil.

Quite heavy infestations on pine trees in the Gladstone plains area have been reported.

Scouts To Install At Powers Monday

At a meeting held at Wilson last Wednesday evening, consisting of Rev. Swanson, Roy Bagley, Clement Sullivan, James Gribble, and Leo Doran, plans were made for the installation of Troops 477 and 478.

The program will be held in the Powers hall, beginning at 8:00 p. m., Monday, Sept. 17. The public is cordially invited. Units from Bark River will also participate in the event.

A well rounded program has been planned, including a motion picture based on true Scouting. Various members of Scouting will take part in the program. Scouts and Scouters will be installed, an impressive flag ceremony will be presented, along with community singing, under the direction of Leo Doran.

Fall Roundup Will Be Held By Scouts

The fall roundup of Scouts from Bark River, Powers, and Hermansville, will be held Saturday, Sept. 22, on Camp three road, beginning at 3:00 p. m.

The roundup will be an afternoon event only, with a funfest program having been planned. The program will include contests, Scoutercraft skills, feats of knowledge, races, etc. All Scouts attending are assured an enjoyable afternoon. The evening will be given over to the campfire activity, at which time each unit will provide the entertainment. Definite plans to be developed in each unit have been sent out to the Scoutmasters toward their preparation for the coming event. The public is cordially invited to attend the campfire ceremony.

Paper Industry Optimistic

LAUNCHING of new construction work at the Groos mill of the Escanaba Paper company is a sample of the vast expansion and modernization programs that the American paper industry is undertaking with the cessation of war.

During the past four years, the paper industry was busy filling military and civilian orders for its products. It was unable to replace machinery and make other desired improvements during that hectic period, but now it is able to go ahead with its long-delayed plans.

After the outbreak of war, the paper industry was called upon to produce substitutes for then-scarce lumber, iron, tin and other materials. The demand for containers, blueprints, photographic and other papers for wartime uses became so great that eventually paper itself went on the critical list. Scrap paper drives, appeals to woodsmen and farmers to cut more pulpwood and other efforts were made to increase the production of raw materials needed by the industry.

In helping to win the war, the industry developed new uses for wood cellulose and paper, which also will serve important peacetime purposes. At Appleton, Wis., the Institute of Paper Chemistry is soon completing a new building, which will be devoted to extending research into paperboard and containers. At Neenah, the Kimberly-Clark corporation began work last week on a new centralized research laboratory, which will employ more than 150 research experts and other technicians.

The industry, with optimism and determination, is making plans to retain and even extend the gains it made in wartime. It has branched into the plastics field, and promises important developments in the future. It will offer inexpensive milk bottles of paper which may be thrown away after emptying. Paperboard boxes and cartons, greatly improved as a result of wartime experience, will enjoy a heavy demand as lightweight packing material in air cargo transportation, which will see phenomenal growth in the next decade. Chemists have developed new film coatings to protect wrapping and container papers against varied climatic conditions and other destructive agents. Many other uses for paper have been developed.

A Lesson for Japan

ADMIRAL MOUNTBATTEN, Allied commander in Southeast Asia, spoke plainly when he told his troops to get tough against Japanese attempts at obduracy, impudence or non-cooperation, pointing out that many Japanese still cannot comprehend that they have lost the war.

The admiral's orders do not authorize Allied troops to adopt a program of brutality such as characterized the Japanese philosophy when they were the controlling power in the Far East, but the instructions of Admiral Mountbatten will assure that the Japs will be taught a lesson that must learn soon—that they have been totally and unequivocally defeated.

In the brief period since the end of hostilities in the Pacific, two types of Japanese thinking have been predominant. One is the type to which Admiral Mountbatten refers—arrogance, impudence and non-cooperation. The second is more prominent in Japan proper, where the reality of defeat is more apparent. That is a viewpoint that now that the war is over, the warring powers should shake hands and make up, that the war was all a game that once ended, should leave no rancor or ill-will between victor and vanquished.

The Allied powers cannot and will not accept either of these Japanese philosophies. The danger is obvious. We must first crush the Japanese militarism that breeds arrogance and impudence, and then we must teach the Japanese nation that making war is something far more dangerous and disastrous than an athletic contest. Only then can we be certain that Japan will never again menace the peace of the world.

Northland Heroes

THE Sault Ste. Marie Evening News thinks that our great Lake Superior characters, Hiawatha and Paul Bunyan, should have adequate mention in the all-Michigan book to be issued next spring, in an endeavor to secure more tourist business for the state.

Everybody in the north country will agree to this. The Bunyan stories and Hiawatha legends appeal to all—old and young. It is a singular coincidence that both characters have their homes, even their birthplaces, in the Lake Superior country. According to Longfellow, Hiawatha could have been born somewhere in the vicinity of Munising. The Pictured Rocks and the Nagow Wudjoo sand dunes, familiar to many people living here, are the scenes of Hiawatha's youth.

Some old-time lumberjack contend that Paul Bunyan was born here in the Upper Peninsula. At any rate, stories of his Upper Peninsula doings are without number, and he is accepted by all as one of our leading citizens.

As such, both great men should have good mention in the new book, and it would be a great mistake to omit all account of their services to the Upper Peninsula, to Michigan and the world. Paul and Hiawatha are among our greatest assets, and we honor ourselves when we honor them.

Winter Sports Coming

WHILE there has not been much talk about winter sports in Delta county yet, actual planning for the coming season is being done already at Iron Mountain and Ishpeming.

This is to be expected, however, for the two afore-mentioned cities have a long history of winter sports activities. With their nationally-famous ski jumping tournaments, they have attracted huge crowds for years, and consequently they fully appreciate the importance of the winter sports business.

At Iron Mountain, plans are being made to build a new ski tow to replace the one that was destroyed by fire two years ago. The winter sports group at Ishpeming already has had a couple meetings to make plans for the coming season's program.

All over the "snow belt" of America there prevails an optimism concerning the future of the winter sports business. Although the railroads have not made their plans known, so busy have they been with the job of transporting troops and war materials, quite likely they will be again promoting the special "snow trains" which proved so popular before the war in New England, Lower Michigan and elsewhere.

Winter sports, particularly skiing, promise to enjoy a revival during the coming seasons that will dwarf the prewar boom into insignificance. It will mean big business for manufacturers of skis, skates and winter sports apparel, not to mention the extra tourist dollars for northern communities that counted on only summer recreational profits in the past. Snow means money in the coming era of winter sports.

BASES FOR SECURITY

(Christian Science Monitor)

There are two ways of looking at naval bases: the way the country possessing them looks at them, and the way other countries look at them. Americans doubtless will bear that in mind as they consider the demands of the Navy for a minimum of nine Pacific and six Atlantic bases. The naval leaders making up this list naturally think in terms of defending the United States. But other Governments cannot ignore the fact that naval bases are outposts not only of defense but of political influence.

No one can say offhand whether it is right or wrong for the United States to demand bases which promise to extend its political influence. Whether this extension is conducive to peace depends on how it is worked out with other nations.

Most of the bases named in the Navy Department's list seem more like a recognition of America's present political position in the world than an attempt to extend it. But suppose that at some points—as in the Admiralty Islands, mandated by another country. Still the value of that base to world peace as well as to the United States may depend more on other factors, like American trade policies and willingness to work as a member of a world community, than on physical factors like location and armament.

The Navy Department's approach must be first of all the approach of a fighting service ready to back up American policies which it does not formulate. It must prepare to "meet all comers." It cannot distinguish between erstwhile friends and foes.

This does not mean that its word should be final on the question of bases. Such questions remain a civil responsibility. But there is another responsibility which the people must undertake. That is, to help create national policies which will make American bases truly a part of a system of international as well as national security.

CANALS WITHOUT TOWPATHS

(Christian Science Monitor)

If proposed legislation is enacted at Washington and Army engineers dig a canal from the Ohio River to Lake Erie, it will not be the first time these waters were connected. A hundred years ago, the State of Ohio had two great canal systems, totaling 796 miles. The Miami & Erie ran from Cincinnati to Toledo, and the Ohio Canal from Portsmouth to Cleveland. President Garfield was a canal boy on the latter. On the new canal, diesel engines are likely to supplant mules and towpaths.

A century ago canals and rivers carried the bulk of the Nation's freight. Today competitive industry, seeking to lower costs, eagerly employs waterways. The Ohio, despite the disappearance of the old packet boats, floats heavier cargoes than ever. Several trainloads of freight can be stowed in barges which one towboat pushes.

The new Ohio-Erie canal probably will follow the Mahoning River valley, from Beaver, Pennsylvania, to the Youngstown steel district. If it can be pushed on to Ashtabula, Cleveland, or some lake port, Mesabi iron ore can make the trip entirely by water from Duluth to Pittsburgh.

One thing in common with most married men is the fine of funny things said to the wife before company.

World Events Analyzed

BY MARQUIS CHILDS

Washington — So closely packed was President Truman's lengthy message to Congress that important sections have been entirely overlooked. One of these dealt with public works and national resources.

The President warned of the toll of our basic resources taken by the war. Our national capital account has been greatly suffered, he said. He urged congress to move immediately to renew the program of conservation all but abandoned during the four years of the conflict.

This is a warning that we ignore at our peril. We have heard a great deal about our worldwide military power. What we sometimes forget is that that power is based on the natural resources of this hemisphere and especially on the reserves of the U. S. A.

It is not a bottomless pit to be dipped into with prodigal disregard for the future. In iron and in other ores, in timber and in many less obvious but equally vital resources the end is in sight—not in the next century, but in the next few years.

HAVE CONSERVATION TRADITION

Happily we have a vigorous tradition of conservation to draw on. It goes back to Teddy Roosevelt and his bold battle with powerful interests that didn't care a whoop about tomorrow.

The pioneer of that policy was Gifford Pinchot. This courageous pioneer was 80 years old the other day—an anniversary lost sight of in the swirl of world events, but one which will have meaning in the future.

Pinchot, the first scientific forester in America, worked out the concept of conservation. He showed how the whole complex of natural resources was interdependent. Destruction of one meant damage or destruction of the others and a threat to our national well-being.

He took his ideas to Teddy Roosevelt. Teddy was never one to fear the new and the untold. Pinchot's concept of conservation caught T. R.'s imagination and he went for it with all the enthusiasm that he threw into the causes he championed.

FOREST SERVICE CREATED

One immediate result was a conference in 1908 of all state governors to discuss conservation of natural resources, the first of its kind in history. It dramatized the issue. Out of that beginning came the forest service and the other agencies, both private and governmental, aimed at conserving the American heritage for generations yet unborn.

The pattern of Pinchot's life is an inspiring one. He has worked selfishly for the America he loves.

Age has not dulled his quick mind or his keen imagination. Just three years ago he helped to develop a life-saving technique for sailors abandoned in open boats as a result of enemy action. This came out of his skill and knowledge as a deep-sea fisherman.

We have been paying proper homage to the heroes of the war. But peace has its heroes too, and Gifford Pinchot is one of them we will need more fighters of his mettle in the years to come.

It is easy to say that we are moving ahead into an era of atomic power and, therefore, natural resources will no longer be important. Unless we are prepared to live in a sterile and empty world completely dominated by the machine, we shall need our resources more than ever before.

FORESTS WILL BE NEEDED

We shall need our forests and rivers and lakes for the curative peace that is in them. We shall need them for their beauty and for the joys of leisure and contemplation that they give us. If we come to a thirty-hour week, we cannot spend all the leisure time behind a motor, either on the highways or in the air.

That is certain to become an important field for jobs and profit—the development of new creative ways to use leisure time. There should be increasing opportunity in education, amusement, resort and travel.

Teddy Roosevelt's idea of a national conference on conservation was a brilliant stroke. Why not a similar conference today? At least, it would give us a chance to talk about some of the things that we are going to have to learn in the next few years.

Take My Word For It

Frank Colby

HANDBOOK OF PRACTICAL ENGLISH

A good word to watch is aggravate. The literal meaning of the original Latin word, aggravatus, is "to add to a burden," hence, figuratively, to increase; to intensify; to make worse.

Aggravate, in the meaning of "to irritate; to exasperate," is not yet admitted as good literary usage and careful writers and speakers will do well to avoid it. Not, "His constant whistling aggravates me." Improved: His constant whistling irritates (exasperates; annoys) me.

Avoid: "Her insolence resulted in my aggravation." Better: Her insolence resulted in my disapproval.

Avoid, "I am very aggravated." Improved: I am very much annoyed (irritated; exasperated).

How to use aggravate correctly: The noise aggravates (increases) my nervousness.

He aggravated his illness by his failure to follow the doctor's instructions.

Note: In the legal term "aggravated assault," the meaning is not, "an assault resulting from exasperation or from being taunted or challenged." An aggravated assault is one that is more serious than a simple assault, as, an assault with a deadly weapon, or an assault with the intention to commit bodily injury, or to maim, or to kill.

Scientists seem agreed that the atomic age means "one world or none." We'll take the "one," thank you!

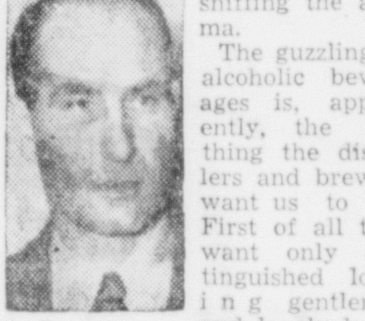

About Time We All Did a Little Worrying

Good Morning!

By The Bugler

YOU DON'T DRINK IT — A careful inspection of the whiskey and beer ads in the magazines leads to the conviction that no one drinks—he just takes an epicurean delight in sniffing the aroma.

The guzzling of alcoholic beverages is, apparently, the last thing the distillers and brewers want us to do. First of all they want only distinguished looking and lovely ladies sitting or standing in genteel attitudes.

The gentlemen may hold a glass of liquor in their hands but they appear uninterested in it. The ladies may curl their fingers lightly around an old-fashioned or a Tom Collins—but it is apparent they have not taken a sip nor do they intend to.

Many of the advertisements leave out the distinguished gentlemen and lovely ladies—but they make sure that you know that drinking is enjoyed only by those in the best social circles.

NO SOTS, PLEASE—One distiller of a famous whiskey, for instance, pictures an outdoor fireplace with a chicken roasting over the coals on a spit. A snazzy lunch wagon is in the foreground, and on the nearest corner is a bottle of liquor—untouched, of course. "Jim believes in doing everything up brown!" the ad writer exclaims. You get the point? You can't eat chicken without a shot of alcohol.

But don't think for one moment that the absentee "Jim" would get potted, or let any of his guests do that. Oh my, no! At the same time the distiller assures us that his is no sissy brew, but an "authentic, hearty flavor." That's to let you know that it does have enough wallop to lay you out—someplace away from "Jim's" barbecue party.

IT HAS "CHARACTER"—Not one of the distillers' will admit that his product will put you stinko on a pint, cause fond husbands to kick their wives, or make old folks soaker.

No manufacturer of alcoholic beverages will rush into print with the assertion that "the buyer beware" and not imbibe more than the cultured gentlemen and glowing ladies in the ads.

Rather they subtly would convince the gullible that if you just have a bottle of the stuff around, like a bowl of prize pennies on the mantel, or a rare book in your library, you will attract the socially elite and impressively rich to your abode for an evening of cultured conversation.

Furthering this fallacy, one distiller places books, flowers and professorial appearing men around a bottle and says pointedly "It has character!" Further it advises that because of the war you may not be able to obtain enough of these decorative bottles for every room in the house, but is quick to add: "You'll have that when there's a more plentiful supply of all good things."

FIT FOR A KING — There is this same accent on the desirability of swigging in the ads of another distiller. He tells you that "quality tells," calls his concoction a "luxury blend" and to clinch the argument reproduces the crest of the British royal family and lets you know that he sells his stuff to no less than H. M. King George VI. This seems to be an old English custom to impress the trade and give the king his liquor at wholesale prices.

The first application of anti-friction roller bearings to artillery wagons was made by the French early in the eighteenth century.

WHAT YOU DON'T SEE — There is another distiller, or group of distillers, who sponsor a newspaper advertising series which mentions just about everything but intoxicating beverages.

This series presents the mouthings of one "The Old Judge," who could be a supreme court, circuit court, U. S. District Court judge, probate judge, justice of the peace—or judge of the Garden Club vegetable exhibit.

"The Old Judge" is a homey old busybody who expounds and moralizes on about every subject under the sun. Always buried deep in the chaff is a kernel of grain (neutral spirits) as carefully blended into the pile as are the ingredients of some of those "fine old whiskeys." Purpose of the whole thing is to let the public know that distillers are not enemies of society, but friends of man.

Even the casual observer knows that the truckloads of liquor sent out from the Escanaba warehouse ends up somewhere besides in a bottle on the mantle. They know if they decorate anything it is a back bar in a tavern or, when empty, the ash can in the alley. The consumer is more interested in the contents than in a pretty label.

What the distillers never picture is the sudden stupor of the drunk behind the bars; the pretty bottle

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

BY DREW PEARSON

Washington—This column has not always agreed with good old Senator Tom Connally of Texas, but here's something on the other side of the ledger.

More than a year ago the navy decided to erect a naval hospital in Connally's home town of Marlin, Texas, noted for its curative springs. Residents of Marlin were ready to purchase whatever site the navy thought best for the hospital, and give it to the navy.

Best site in town is a 160-acre plot belonging to Ben Connally, the Senator's son who gave up his Houston law practice to enter the army, where he still is. Marlin residents were certain this site is what the navy would want, since it was the only high land overlooking the town, yet near the town. Another site, less desirable and farther from town was selected as an alternative.

But for nearly a year Connally has refused to agree to let his son's land be purchased, insisting that it would appear that he had used his political position to turn a profitable real estate deal for the family. As a result the rumor sprang up that Connally was holding up the hospital until the navy assured him it would take his son's land.

Investigation convinces this columnist that the opposite is the case. Only recently, after repeated pleadings from Representative Poage of Marlin, Connally grudgingly has consented to let the town condemn the Ben Connally property, and then let the navy take its choice of the two sites.

SERVICE NOTES

Attention Surgeon General Norman Kirk, U. S. Army: Why is it that at Billings General Hospital you have doctors with over 140 points, 37 months overseas combat service sitting idle for three months—despite the shortage of civilian doctors? . . . Also, why is it necessary to compel army surgeons to spend six days learning the nomenclature of the M1 rifle, a machine gun a carbine, and the working mechanism of a hand grenade now that the war is over? Why is it necessary to compel 120 surgeons, after a tour of 21 months overseas, to appear on a rifle range and practice slow and rapid firing, while other surgeons are forced to sit in the target pits, raising and lowering the targets? . . . Attention Colonel Othel Deering, Buckingham Army Air Field, Fort Myers, Fla.: Many men in your outfit, ranging from 80 points to 150, complain that they are kept polishing airplanes and picking up cigarette butts, when all are entitled to discharge. They point to the order of Major Gen. S. G. Henry, assistant chief of staff, that "effective immediately all enlisted men with a point score of 85 and over will be sent to separations centres for immediate separation" . . . Attention Col. John R. Kane, Cowan Field, Boise, Idaho: Is it necessary to continue flight training of men, some of them entitled to discharge, in such a way that 18 men were killed in a crash after V-J day?

VETERANS' GRIPES

Politicians consider the servicemen's overwhelming vote for Roosevelt one of the most important factors in defeating Dewey. But today the Truman administration seems to be losing ground daily with war veterans.

Here are some of the complaints servicemen are registering. They are more than gripes. They are things the men feel deeply.

1. Servicemen must be convinced of the army's need for keeping 2,000,000 men and the navy 500,000 men, despite the atomic bomb, when our peacetime forces were only 120,000 and 60,000 respectively.

2. They must be convinced that the army and navy are earnestly trying to speed the exit of those who have earned discharge.

3. They still have to be sold on the idea of a peacetime draft when they thought they were fighting a war to end military systems.

4. They must find that there are jobs for them when they return home, and that the various benefits and loans supposed to be available are actually to be had without going through months of government red tape.

5. They must be shown that the so-called preference they are supposed to have in the purchase of surplus material from the army and the navy actually works. Thus far it hasn't.

For instance, thousands of veterans are now trying to purchase jeeps, trucks and other surplus items. But they find their applications frequently so delayed that eventually they go out and buy from dealers at higher prices.

Servicemen are puzzled about President Truman, because they thought that as a result of his experience in the last war and his chairmanship of the Truman committee, he would be able to stand up against army-navy brass hats. But they are getting disillusioned.

Simultaneously, Republicans are licking their chops with joy.

Uncle Sam says there will be 3,500,000 radios by Christmas. Keeping right in tune with the times.

With some of the young folks, moonlight makes the most popular dance step, sitting it out.

As the summertime flowers fade out, the fall ones begin to blossom. Mum's the word!

A new era is about to dawn. How bright it is for you depends on whether or not you're wide awake.

The first thing most people will do with a new car is wonder when the county is going to fix the roads.

Doubtless the youngsters returning to school were disappointed to find that studies weren't rationed.

Nahma Will Hold Roundup Of Scouts

A roundup of Scouts from troops of Nahma, Cooks and Manistiquie will be held Saturday afternoon at the Nahma park in Nahma.

Activities of the day will begin at 3 p. m. and closing after the campfire in the evening. A fun-fest program has been planned by the Scout leaders, which assures each Scout attending an enjoyable afternoon. Such activities included in the day's program are: races, contests of skill, some Scoutcraft, songfests, stunts, etc. Scouts will be required to cook their evening meal as part of each Scout's participation. In addition to the activities, the Scouting program of highlighted events will be announced for the coming year.

The public is cordially invited to attend the evening campfire.

The Tammany Society, formed in 1789 which was to become Tammany Hall, took its name from an Indian chief with a view to conciliating hostile Indian tribes on the outskirts of the town. It did not become a political party institution until the time of the Jefferson administration.

SAVES FRIEND'S LIFE

Stornaway, Scotland (AP)—Edward Nicholson fell from the dock of his trawler between the ships berthed here and was in danger of being crushed to death when his friend, Marcel Kerna, wedged himself between the vessels to keep them from bumping.

This "human buffer" broke a thigh but saved the life of Nicholson. Ship mates recognized his efforts with a gift of 35 pounds (about $156).

JUST LOOKS LAZY

The lazy looking bumble bee is more energetic than the honey bee. It goes to work earlier in the morning and stays on the job later in the evening.

Today's Recipes

Beet Relish

1 quart beets, cooked, ground coarse

1 quart raw cabbage, ground coarse

1 cup horseradish, ground fine

Bring to boiling point:

1 cup vinegar

2 cups sugar

1 tablespoon salt

1 tablespoon pepper

Pour the mixture over the ground vegetables and seal in jars.

Mrs. Lester LaBumbard, Nahma

We print the following recipe in answer to a request:

Canning Corn On Cob

Corn should be canned the same day it is picked.

Put ears in boiling water for ten minutes. Remove and dip quickly in cold water.

Place ears in hot two-quart jars. Add one teaspoon salt to each quart. Fill to overflowing with boiling water. Cover jars loosely.

Place jars in washboiler or preserving kettle and boil for three hours. Seal tight while hot. Keep in dark place.

Births

A son was born on Sept. 10 at St. Francis hospital to Lt. and Mrs. Ed Gauthier, 1511 Fifth avenue south. The baby is the first child in the family. Mrs. Gauthier is the former Betty Jane Chapman. Lt. Gauthier is stationed with the Air Corps in Italy at present.

Social - Club

Terry's Party

Terry DeRouin, son of SC 2/c and Mrs. Victor DeRouin, 1133 Washington avenue, celebrated his first birthday anniversary on Sept. 11 at a party held at his home.

His father is serving with the Navy in the Pacific.

Centering the attractive luncheon table was a three-layer birthday cake, gift of his grandmother, Mrs. Frank Kidd. Individual cupcakes, each with a candle, marked the places at the table, and favors were dainty baskets of candy.

Terry received many gifts.

Attending the party were Mrs. William Lancoeur and sons, Jerry and Leroy; Mrs. Otto Siversen, daughter, Anita and son, Wally; Mrs. Pat Cormier and daughter, Darlene; Mrs. Phil DeRouin and sons, Roger, Dennis and Noel; Mrs. Emil DeRouin and daughter, Emily Marie; and Terry's aunts, Lorraine DeRouin, Rita Cool and

Lorraine Ramsdell,

Married At Vulcan

Norway, Mich.—A dress of white slipper satin, made with a tight-fitting bodice, wrist-length sleeves and full skirt, and a long white net train, gathered to a pearl tiara, were worn by Miss Lorraine Ramsdell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Ellis T. Ramsdell, F5R Custerdale, Manitowoc, Wis., former Norway residents, for her marriage at 9 o'clock Tuesday at St. Barbara's, Vulcan, to Theodore Smokovitz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jacob Smokovitz, State Road, Vulcan.

The Rev. William Schick offered the nuptial mass before an altar decorated with gladioli.

Mrs. Smokovitz, a graduate of Norway high, was employed as a tailor in the Henderson-Hoight Clothing store, Manitowoc. Her husband, who was graduated from Vulcan high, recently finished a special Army engineer training course at Spokane, Wash. He worked for his father on the latter's farm, State Road, before entering the Army.

Out-of-town guests were Dr. N. W. Allen and Mrs. Allen, Mr. and Mrs. Harlin Baldwin and Miss Evelyn Stanek, Manitowoc; Mr. and Mrs. Clarence Bridges and son, Steve, and Miss Catherine Smokovitz, Escanaba; Miss Alice Smokovitz, Detroit, and Miss Mary Engibous, New Orleans, La.

WINTER SPORT MEET PLANNED

Peninsula - Wide Parley Is Advocated By Boosters

Leaders in the winter sports field of the Upper Peninsula appear to be in unanimous agreement that now is the time for a peninsula-wide conference to make plans, possibly for a ten-year period, for the winter sports development in the Upper Peninsula.

This feeling was revealed in replies to a bulletin sent by George E. Bishop, Secretary-Manager of the Upper Peninsula Development Bureau, to some 250 key men and women in the peninsula who in the past have been instrumental in the development of winter sports activities.

Bishop pointed out that summer resorts of the peninsula are even now feeling the effects of the release of the long pent-up vacation desire of the people of the United States. The facilities of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan for housing, feeding and entertaining tourist guests are being taxed. "Some vacation-minded people preferring to take their vacations in a winter setting with winter climate in order that they may enjoy winter sports activities, are already writing to us to ascertain what is being done to improve old facilities, or to provide new ones for the enjoyment of winter sports. Skiing, hockey, cross-country skiing, tobogganing, ski jumping, slalom riding, ski touring, sleigh riding, dog team riding, etc., are sports activities now in the minds of many people who would enjoy the out-of-doors.

The extent to which the people of the Upper Peninsula of Michigan provide facilities to meet this winter recreational demand, will determine the extent to which we may lengthen our all-year-round recreational program."

In response to this bulletin, Dr. Grover C. Dillman, president of the Michigan College of Mining and Technology, and chairman of the Upper Peninsula sub-committee of the State Planning Commission, declared that, "The time certainly has come when communities should take under serious consideration programs in which they are interested and believe able to do something about, all having to do with the development of winter sports in Upper Michigan. I think it would be worthwhile for a conference on the subject.

The matter of a five or ten year program is worthwhile considering and it seems to me that the subject should be taken up on the basis of (1) What the Upper Peninsula has to offer at this time, and (2) what is planned for the future, with some idea of when the more extended or expanded winter sports services would be available."

He recommended also that the Department of Conservation should be represented at the conference to give first-hand information as to what the Department has in mind with regard to winter sports development.

News From Men In The Service

Victor DeRouin has been promoted to Ship's Cook second class, according to word received here. His wife and son reside at 1133 Washington avenue. SC 2-c DeRouin is serving with the navy in the Pacific and saw action in the battle of Okinawa.

Highway Employees To Picnic Saturday

About 300 state highway and county road commission employees of the Upper Peninsula will gather at Dutch Mill, north of Rapid River, Saturday afternoon for an outing and picnic.

State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler has been invited to attend. Harry Ward, chief deputy commissioner, and Ralph Swan, director of the highway department's public relations division, are expected to be present for the picnic, an annual event prior to the war. Feature of the afternoon will be a ball game between teams representing the western and eastern U. P. districts. Other entertainment is being arranged, and lunch will be served.

Since Mackerel has so much fat of its own, little or none needs to be added in cooking.

A brief soaking period for clothes is more desirable than the over-night soaking period.

SAW HISTORY
BEING MADE

Lt. Jack Tumath Over
Tokyo As Peace
Is Signed

Lt. Jack Tumath, navigator in a B-29 crew, flew over Tokyo and the USS Missouri as the peace treaty was being signed, a letter to his sister, Mrs. Rex Coulter, discloses. Lt. Tumath is a son of Mr. and Mrs. Herb Tumath, Superior avenue.

Lt. Tumath also included notes written while on the mission from Tinian to Japan and a weather sheet from the same trip.

A small portion of his letter follows:

"At least I can say I flew over Tokyo Bay while the peace treaty was being signed and there aren't too damn many guys that can say they've done the same."

"Three of our crew members went to Okinawa yesterday to help build living quarters for the rest of us. They sent the bombardier, radar operator and tail gunner of every crew to Okinawa. These are supposed to be non-essentials on a crew nowadays. * * * The time in that note is GCT which is two hours ahead of actual time here."

The note:

"I'm about 500 miles from Tokyo right now. The other navigator is resting while I take over for a while."

"Right now we're flying in a storm but we expect to break out of it before we reach Japan. I guess the sky will be thick with planes when we get there. It's estimated that there will be 6,000 in the air at one time over Tokyo Bay."

"On our return flight we'll land at Iwo Jima, refuel and return to Tinian. This is a voluntary mission. I didn't have to go but I didn't want to miss it so I'm flying with this other crew."

"It's 10:30 a. m. now and I can see the coast of Japan on my left. We're supposed to rendezvous with other B-29's and then fly over Tokyo a couple of times to show Japan our air power."

"Don't think we'll see much cuz it's pretty cloudy over the island. We're joining the formation now—it's really a wonderful sight to see."

"Now we're heading for the coast, 1050 a. m."

"Just crossed the coast line. 1055."

"We're flying at 3,000 feet and you can see where everything has been bombed."

"TOKYO!!"

"Tokyo Bay is completely taken over by the United States Navy."

"Tokyo is all in ruins except a few buildings here and there."

"We're on our way back now. We didn't have to stop at Iwo to refuel. Flew over Iwo Jima at 0434 p. m. My ETA for Tinian is 0744 p. m."

TIRING POLITICS
Bogota (AP)—Colombia's shortage of tires was reflected in recent charges by an opposition newspaper that a government rationing officer was offering to trade one tire for one vote for the government party's presidential candidate. The rationing board man denied it and said tires, imported from Brazil and doled out to essential users, would bring considerably more than one vote anyway.

HAS $111,222
IN WAR BONDS

City Of Gladstone Puts Money Away For Future

The City of Gladstone has a total of $111,222.00 invested in war bonds, not approximately $92,000.00 as was published in a story in yesterday's Press, Miss Vera Ohman, city treasurer, reports.

Of the total $106,782.00 is from the general fund and will be used later for postwar projects while $4,400 is an investment from the cemetery perpetual care fund.

To date the bonds have earned $513.70 which brings the total the city now has in bonds to $111,735.70.

All investments made by the city in war bonds are in F Series.

COMPLETE ROAD TO PORT INLAND

County Road Commission
And Inland Company
Co-operated

The County Road Commission with the assistance of the Inland Lime and Stone company has just completed a 3 inch asphaltic concrete surface on four miles of the road from Gulliver to Port Inland.

The completion of this job results in a continuous asphalt road from Gulliver to the plant of the inland company. Five miles of oil aggregate surface were laid in 1941 with the assistance of the inland company and W. P. A. At that time the inland company furnished the stone and W. P. A. furnished the oil and hand labor. The county furnished the equipment and operators. The county did not have any heavy graders at that time for mixing, and rented two from Mackinac county.

This year the inland company furnished all the gravel and asphalt while the county furnished the equipment and labor. The county owns one heavy grader and rented a second one from Mackinac county for the major portion of the job. After the Mackinac machine broke down a "Seaman Pulvi-Mixer" was loaned to the county by Paul Hoholik of the Straits Engineering company of Sault Ste. Marie. This machine, working with the Schoolcraft grader spreading the mixing, assisted in spreading and leveling, and pulverized the shoulder material, leaving it in a level condition ideal for a minimum of blade work to give a level straight shoulder. All that remains to be done is light rolling of the shoulders to compact the surface giving a better road.

Quantities involved in each mile of road were 15,000 gallons of asphalt and 1,200 tons of gravel to produce a mat 3 inches thick and 18 feet wide. The costs per mile of road are broken down as follows:

Placing gravel:
Labor $ 375.00
Equipment 325.00
Material 1,000.00
Mixing and spreading:
Labor 700.00
Equipment 500.00
Material 1,100.00

Total cost per mile ... $4,000.00
Of this amount the county paid $1,900 and the inland company paid $2,100.

The gravel had worn out on this road and was due for a new gravel surface at least which would have been about the same amount as used. If the inland material had been used, binder soil would have been added.

The gravel maintenance last year on this same section including dragging and dust laying only, amounted to over $300.00 per mile.

Truck Crashes Into Mail Box On Deer Street

Thesur Stankovich, of Shingletown, is being treated at the Shaw hospital for injuries sustained when the pickup truck he was driving, crashed into the mail box at the corner of Deer and Weston avenue about 2 o'clock Wednesday morning. Stankovich was injured in the chest, but his condition is not regarded as serious. The truck was badly wrecked and the mail box was shattered.

Stankovich, who is home on furlough, told police that he was somewhat bewildered because of the heavy fog that prevailed at that hour.

The place has been the scene of numerous motor mishaps, explained by the fact that the level of the street is dished the wrong way for safe driving.

With Stankovich at the time was Francis Fazekas, of Fairport, Ohio. He escaped injury.

Of all the tribes of Africa who came into conflict with the white man, both Boers and British, the Zulus and the Matabele were the most savage and dangerous.

Husband Of Manistique Woman Helped Produce Famous Atomic Bomb

Prominently listed among the scientists who made the atomic bomb possible, is the name of Dr. David Ritter, a member of the faculty of the University of Washington.

Many Manistique people have perhaps noted that name without being aware that it has more than ordinary local significance. Dr. Ritter is the husband of the former Bernice Carlson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. August Carlson, of 314 Range street. The doctor, himself, was born and raised in Kenosha, Wis.

In a feature article of the Seattle Times, Dr. Ritter is pictured and given prominent mention. He acknowledges in the article that the two raids that wreaked such havoc in Japan were "not exactly a surprise," although, he is quick to add, "it wouldn't be quite right that I was expecting it."

Dr. Ritter and Dr. George H. Cady, also of the University of Washington, worked together on the project although neither one was aware of the fact until the bomb was put into use.

"There was a lot we didn't know of course," says Dr. Ritter. "We were told just as much as we needed to know to do our work, and no more. There is still plenty we don't know about the project."

Although the two men had had offices in the same university building for almost a year before the atomic bomb was announced, they never discussed their knowledge of the project with each other, an example of the secrecy which kept information on the work from reaching the enemy.

Dr. Ritter came to the University of Washington about a year ago to do research work in connection with the pulp industry.

NOW SHE SHOPS "CASH AND CARRY"

Without Painful Backache
Many sufferers relieve nagging backache quickly, once they discover that the real cause of their trouble may be tired kidneys. The kidneys are Nature's chief way of taking the excess acids and waste out of the blood. They help most people pass about 3 pints a day.

When disorder of kidney function permits poisonous matter to remain in your blood, it may cause nagging backache, rheumatism, leg pains, loss of pep and energy, getting up nights, swelling, puffiness under the eyes, headaches and dizziness. Frequent or scanty passages with smarting and burning sometimes show there is something wrong with your kidneys or bladder.

Don't wait! Ask your druggist for Doan's Pills, a stimulant diuretic, used successfully by millions for over 40 years. Doan's give happy relief and will help the 15 miles of kidney tubes flush out poisonous waste from your blood. Get Doan's Pills.

NOTICE TO BIDDERS

Sealed bids will be accepted by the Schoolcraft County Road Commission until 7:30 P. M. September 25, 1945, Central War Time, at the office of the Board, Manistique, Michigan, for furnishing to said Board the following equipment:

1—72" Motor Driven "Seaman Pulvi-Mixer", Complete with Rotor Assembly Type C.

The Board reserves the right to reject or waive defects in any or all bids.

Bids will be submitted in sealed envelopes plainly marked "Equipment Bid."

MAJOR FYVIE COMING HOME

Was Recently Decorated
For Heroic Conduct
Under Fire

Major James H. Fyvie, who prior to his entrance into the armed service was a physician here, is soon returning to America and to private life. His wife, who resides at 210 Range street, recently received word from him to the effect that he was on his way to France, presumably an embarkation point and that his return to this country could be expected before long.

He states that at first he had fear that he would be transferred to another unit which would necessitate a longer stay on the continent, because of the fact that he lacked sufficient points to insure his immediate discharge from the services, but a long delayed citation boded up without any warning, helping him on to a speedier return home.

The citation, which calls for a cluster and a bronze star, come in addition to the awarding of a purple heart medal.

The citation follows:
"395th Infantry, U. S. Army.

"For heroic action in connection with military operations against the enemy on 27 April, 1945 in Germany during the crossing of the Danube river at Nuestadt. Major Fyvie with utter disregard for his own personal safety, rendered skillful aid to many wounded soldiers while under intense observed enemy fire. For eight hours the battle raged relentlessly and during the entire period he remained with the front line soldiers, voluntarily exposing himself to intense small arms and artillery fire in order to give aid and encouragement to the wounded. On several occasions it was necessary for him to take cover in the water and mud of the river banks with his patient until he could get to safety. Through this action his untiring devotion to duty and his indomitable spirit, reflected great credit upon himself and his keeping with the highest traditions to the armed forces of the United States."

Farmer Uses Car To Scare Away Marauding Bear

A bear, blamed for numerous depredations in the vicinity of the Isaac Pawley farm, seven miles east of here, came to grief Monday night. It was caught in a trap and finally shot. The animal weighed 400 pounds.

It is not known whether this is the same animal that visited the farm of Robert Rice, in the same vicinity, a few nights before. In this case Rice caught the animal making away with a calf that had been tied to a stake. Rice heard the commotion and ran out of the house to investigate. Efforts to frighten the bear were unsuccessful until he conceived the idea of getting into the car and giving the animal a number of powerful nudges with the bumper. The calf was so badly mauled that it had to be killed.

Recently while in the Hiawatha area, Officer Mellon and an assistant came upon a couple of bear cubs helping themselves to apples in an orchard. They went over to the animals to frighten them away and in turn were given a fright, for the mother bear happened to be near by. They made a hasty retreat to their car.

Bear have created a serious problem this year because of the fact that blueberries, which provides most of their food during late summer, have been unusually scarce this year.

Senators Win And Tigers Lose; Detroit Margin Cut To Half Game

FELLER BESTED BY MASTERSON

Cleveland Indians Shut Out 4 To 0 In Hot Pennant Chase

BY BUS HAM

Washington, Sept. 13 (P)—Walter Masterson stole the show from Bob Feller tonight, hurling the Washington Senators to a 4 to 0 victory over the Cleveland Indians.

Masterson let the Indians down with two hits and changed the complexion of the exciting American League pennant race by pulling the Senators up within one-half game of the pace setting Detroit Tigers.

Only once was the 6-foot-2 right hander in trouble. Cihocki's hit, a walk to Feller and a passed ball put Indians on second and third with one out in the third.

But Masterson cut loose with a blazing fast ball almost as swift as Feller's to strike out Felix Mackiewicz and Mickey Rosso flied to George Case.

Binks Finds Groove
Rookie Bingo Binks, looking at Feller's stuff for the first time, gave the 24,606 fans something to shout about in the fourth by driving in the first two runs of a three-run Washington attack.

Buddy Lewis walked and Joe Kuhel smartly tapped an infield hit toward second as the Cleveland infielders switched positions for an anticipated hunt. Cecil Travis fanned but Binks doubled to right center, scoring Lewis and Kuhel. Gil Torres' hot single sent Binks home.

George Myatt, who stole his 30th and 31st bases to take the league lead, scored the last Washington run in the fifth by daring base running.

He beat out an infield hit and stole second. Lewis walked. When Kuhel sent a short fly to right, Myatt streaked for third after the out. Cihocki cut off Les Fleming's throw and attempted to catch Lewis off first but threw wild, Myatt scoring.

The Senators lost a run at the plate in the second inning when Fleming's excellent throw to Frank Hayes nailed Travis as he tried to score from third on Torres' fly.

The Sports Parade

By Ken Gunderman

There has been plenty of uncertainty about when the championship game of the city softball tournament would be played, but the final decision to schedule the title match for Sunday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock at the new field is one that will get a great big "Hurrah" from local sports fans. The game was first tentatively booked for Thursday night, then revised to Friday night, still later changed again to Sunday night, and finally and irrevocably, we hope, scheduled for Sunday afternoon.

If the game were to be played in mid-week, a night booking under the lights was, of course, inevitable since it would be impossible to play during daylight hours. When the title match was moved back to Sunday, however, the afternoon booking became the favorable one because of the more ideal playing conditions, for players and spectators alike, under the warmth and natural lighting of Old Sol. When the sun disappears below the horizon, a chill sets in during these early fall days that is not at all dissipated by the rays of the burning arc lamps.

The installation of lights, permitting night games, at the new field has marked an important milestone in the development of softball in Escanaba. It eliminates the necessity of scheduling games only in daylight hours and thereby greatly extended the playing season at this time of the year, when dusk arrives all too quickly in the early evening. It provided many fans with an opportunity to attend games that they otherwise would be unable to see because of conflict with their daily schedule. Nevertheless, the softball association is wise in settling on Sunday afternoon for their title game, when it is obvious that the larger audience and the best playing conditions would result in the afternoon, rather than at night.

The championship game promises to be a thrilling one, if the previous Wednesday night is a good criterion. The White Birch played sharp ball in upsetting the favored Dagenais Grocers and their victory was well deserved. Potentially, Dagenais Grocers are better balanced, with greater power, as the league season indubitably proved, but the Flat Rock boys compensate for speed and aggressiveness for any inferiority that they may possess in batting power. There is small doubt that the final round finds the two best teams battling for the title, a tribute in itself to the double elimination plan utilized for the first time in local softball history.

GAMES TODAY

New York, Sept. 13 (P)—Probable pitchers for tomorrow's major league games, with won and lost records in parentheses:

National League
New York at Cincinnati: Emmerich (4-4) vs. Heusser (10-14).
Philadelphia at Chicago (2): (0-1) and Kraus (4-5) vs. Derringer (15-1) and Passeau (16-6).
Brooklyn at St. Louis (2, twin): Gregg (15-12) and Lombardi (8-11) vs. Barrett (21-11) and Burkhardt (16-7).
(Only games scheduled)

American League
Chicago at New York: Humphries (6-13) vs. Gettel (9-7) or Duhel (9-9).
St. Louis at Boston: Kramer (10-14) vs. Clark (2-3).
Detroit at Philadelphia: Mueller (5-7) vs. Fowler (1-0).
Cleveland at Washington, night: Harder (3-7) vs. Hafner (16-12).

Big Guns Still Out
For another day the Tigers were without the services of Hank Greenberg and Eddie Mayo, two of their biggest guns. Both were in uniform and took short workouts before the game, but neither would hazard a guess as to when he could get back in the line-up.

The A's scored first off Tobin in the second inning on a walk, an infield hit and an error by the Tiger hurler, who was momentarily blinded by the sun on Ed Busch's roller.

Detroit tied it up in the fourth when Rudy Rupp slapped a single to center, reached second on a force out and dashed home on Jimmy Outlaw's blow over second base. The play at the plate was very close, and Catcher Buddy Roser nearly stripped his gears when Umpire Rue called York safe. He gave Rue several very husky shoves, but the arbiter held his temper.

That was all until the seventh when the Tigers put across what looked like the clincher. Swift opened it with a single, was sacrificed to second and counted on Skeeter Webb's knock to center. For six straight innings until the train hit him in the ninth, Tobin had set the A's down in order. Kell of the A's walloped a double in the seventh, but was nailed at third trying to stretch it.

Work North From Menominee

A state highway department survey of M-35 is to be started next week preparatory to improvements proposed in a postwar highway program by State Highway Commissioner Charles M. Ziegler. Grading and new surfacing of the highway is scheduled.

The survey crew is to start at the end of the pavement a few miles north of Menominee, and survey the route northward toward Escanaba. It has been indicated that the present location of the highway will not be changed materially.

Besides the grading and new surfacing, the construction of two new bridges on M-35 is scheduled. One of these is a new bridge over Cedar river about 25 miles south of Escanaba in Menominee county, and the second, a new bridge over Bark river near Fuller county park in Delta county.

Three other state highway department survey crews are now at work in the Upper Peninsula.

One of these is surveying US-41 near the junction with US-141 in Baraga county. A second is making a survey of M-28 near Seney, and the third is working on US-41 between Marquette and Negaunee. An aerial survey has been completed on the last, and the crew is now establishing ground points for alignment and elevation.

Elmer Is Appointed State Parks Chief

Arthur S. Elmer, assistant chief of the division of referees of the United States Fish and Wildlife Service, has been appointed chief of the parks and recreation division of the Michigan Conservation Department, Director P. J. Hoffmaster, announced yesterday. Elmer will assume his new duties October 1.

As chief of the parks and recreation division, Elmer will have charge of state parks and recreation areas, now undergoing a program of expansion and development probably not rivaled anywhere in the nation.

Elmer, a graduate in forestry at the University of Michigan, and former assistant chief of the conservation department's division of field administration, left Michigan in 1935 to become affiliated with the U. S. Fish and Wildlife Service. In that capacity he was assistant in direct charge of 25 national wildlife refuges with a total acreage in excess of 17,000,000.

Says Great Lakes Area Underrated As Vacationland

Lieut. Phil DeGraff, owner and before-the-war operator of the Birch Lodge resort near Trout Lake, Michigan, has taken to task Elizabeth Pope, travel writer of "This Week" magazine appearing in many Sunday newspaper supplements, for placing the Great Lakes area as ninth place in a recommended list of ten places to travel now that the war is over.

Lieut. DeGraff, who expects to open his lodge for business as usual in 1946, has invited Miss Pope to visit the Lodge next year. "You don't have to worry about being poisoned," he wrote, "for I am listed with Duncan Hines."

The lieutenant, serving in the U. S. Navy, is now stationed at Ocean View Naval Barracks, Norfolk, Virginia, and has had frequent opportunities to visit Atlantic seaboard resorts, and that is what aroused his ire after reading Miss Pope's article.

"I can imagine that the idea of cruising around on fresh water would be tame stuff to an Easterner, to whom salt is salt, by gosh, even if it does make you feel sticky all over and you have to take a fresh water shower before you can haul your clothes on again. There are so many other features to the Great Lakes area that even blasé travelers have a thrilling time doing the thousand and one things which are not in anyone's travel book. The Upper Peninsula, or Hiawathaland, specializes in frontier travel interests, although there are better (?) places for those who are afraid to get their tortured feet off pavements and sidewalks. So many of the "fun" things we do cost so little, or nothing at all, that it is hard for the average recipient of the benefits of the gyp resorts to believe that he could have a good time without spending seeds of dough. I have been spending some time at Virginia Beach, and I can say with all sincerity that neither I nor most of our resort people would have the unmitigated gall to charge so much for so little. In our country, folks go in swimming 'for free', but at the Pinewood, at the above resort, it cost me $2.10 to get my

Conference Held By Farm Security

A conference of Farm Security Administration officials of the Upper Peninsula with state and regional officers opened yesterday at the FSA office in the federal building here and will continue today.

carcass into the water, along with a piece of beach rag to lie on."

The conference includes planning sessions to outline the FSA program for the coming year and a discussion of various problems.

Attending the conference yesterday were Thomas Smith, regional director, Milwaukee; Frank Oppenlander, personnel officer, Milwaukee; Roswell G. Carr, state director, East Lansing. Upper Peninsula FSA officials in attendance included Wallace Keskitlo, Ontonagon; Ivan B. Hopfer, Houghton; Warner Biekkela, Marquette; Clayton Ried, Manistique; Olin F. Freed, Sault Ste. Marie; Engrid Tervonen, Escanaba; and Byron Braamse, Escanaba.

Regional and state officials of the Farm Security Administration who will attend the conference today include Miss Elizabeth A. Rivers, Milwaukee; John Anderson, Milwaukee; Dr. McElligot, Milwaukee; and Mrs. Eunice Pardee, East Lansing.
